

Quality Policy

We are dedicated to continuous improvement and delivering the highest quality products and services to our customers, from customer inquiry through product delivery and after-sales support.

We are proud of the important role we play in supplying our customers with timely products and services that are often critical to missions and used in combat zones.

The Simex Quality System is embedded in all our processes to ensure our customers can rely on the products they receive from us.

Sami Mouallem

President,